EMBRACING THE SHADOWS THIS OCTOBER

October is here—a month of pumpkins, crisp air, and Halloween magic. But beyond the costumes and candy, this season carries a powerful reminder for our mindset and motivation.

Halloween teaches us that the things we fear aren't always as scary as they seem. The shadows in the corner, the haunted house down the street, or even the unknown path in our own lives—they all challenge us to step forward with courage. Fear is often just an illusion, waiting to be unmasked.

This month, instead of running from your challenges, put on your metaphorical costume and face them head-on. Just like kids go door to door expecting a “treat,” you can knock on the doors of opportunity knowing that persistence will reward you. Every obstacle is simply a trick designed to make your victory sweeter.

So, as the nights grow longer and the air feels a little spookier, remind yourself: your mindset is the lantern that lights the way. Choose to see fear not as a monster but as a motivator. When you do, October won't just be about ghosts and goblins—it will be about growth, grit, and glowing brighter than the jack-o'-lantern on your doorstep.

TRICK OR TREAT

Yourself!

This October, embrace the spirit of Halloween by turning your fears into fuel. Use this short worksheet to uncover the “tricks” holding you back, claim the “treats” of growth and progress, and shine your inner lantern to guide you forward.

1. NAME YOUR SHADOW

What challenge, fear, or habit is haunting you this month?

2. UNMASK THE TRICK

What story or excuse have you been telling yourself about it?

3. CLAIM THE TREAT

What growth, freedom, or reward will you gain by facing it?

4. LIGHT YOUR LANTERN

List one action you'll take this month to move forward with courage.
